CHAMPIONS OF THE INCOME TAX MEASURE.

FIFTEEN WOMEN ARE ARRAIGNED

DID ELSIE SIGEL LOVE THE CHINAMAN?

CALHOUN CASE IN JURY'S HANDS

It Took Three Months and Two Days to Qualify Thirteen Men to Serve on It.

2310 CITIZENS SUMMONED.

Record Contains 4,250,000 Words—Expenses of Trial Estimated at $50,000—Verdict Not Soon.

San Francisco, June 18.—Concluding the greatest issue in the history of San Francisco's graft scandal, the case of Patrick Calhoun, millionaire president of the United Railroads, charged with bribery, was given to the jury shortly before noon today after a trial that dates back to January 12, 1909. Assistant Dist. Atty. Heney, in a session of court that opened an hour before the usual time added materially to an argument that had already extended over a period of 15 hours before Judge William P. Lawrence began his charge to the jury a few minutes before 11 o'clock.

Every faction of municipal politics and every shade of bitter sentiment that has arisen since the overthrow of "Boss" Abraham Ruef three years ago, was represented in the overwhelming throng that stormed the doors of Carpenter's hall, where court sessions are held this morning. Mounted policemen charged into the crowds again and again, and a full company of patrolmen inside the building and out was scarcely able to prevent a riot and regulate admission to the courtroom.

HENEY PACES JURY.

When Mr. Heney faced the jury for the final installment of his address, the hall was packed to suffocation. Men and women prominent in every detail of the city's life, who had fought for entrance counted themselves fortunate to have the privilege of standing in remote corners, while in the street hundreds were marshalled in line by the police or stood patiently at the ends of the block, denied even the privilege of remaining in the vicinity of the hall.

Not alone because of the exceeding bitterness that has marked many of its stages, but because of its length, has the trial been a notable one in western history. Between Jan. 12, of this year, when the attempt to impeach the first jurymen was instituted, and today, when the case was given to the 12 men finally selected, five months and a week elapsed, and 18 days had intervened. Of this period 110 days had been devoted to court sessions. In this respect the case outstripped every record established in the case of Abraham Ruef, who was convicted after 73 days devoted to actual court proceedings.

SECURING JURY.

A thirteen-jury, Michael Murphy, was added to the regular panel of 12 by order of Judge Lawrence, with the expectation that his services might be required by emergency. Three months ago, when the jury was first selected, the 13 jurors, of the 2,310 citizens summoned by the sheriff, 1,429 were actually subjected to interrogation by the attorneys in the case.

Pendency challenges were first exercised on March 9, and since that date six members of the jury have been in custody of a court bailiff, residing at the Francis Hotel. The other members of the panel have been separated from their families and business affairs since March 31, and the others since April 1, when the thirteen-jury was qualified.

The typewritten record of the case amounted to 2,500,000 words when the jury was completed. Judge, attorneys and witnesses have added another 1,750,000 to the bulky transcript since that time, making a total of 4,250,000 words.

The cost of the trial, including the maintenance of jurors, a special police detail, transcript and the usual expenses of the court for so great a period, can only be conjectured, but it is estimated that it will reach $50,000.

When the morning session opened, Heney, who had spoken 15 hours at the end of last night's session, resumed the final stage of his argument. His voice was hoarse and he spoke rapidly, apparently in an effort to make the most of his allowance of 15 minutes.

Mr. Heney made direct charges of witness-fixing and perjury against several officers or employees of the United Railroads.

The speaker charged that James L. Gallagher's home in Oakland had been dynamited by agents of the defense, and at the end of this subject said:

HENEY'S PRECAUTIONS.

"Now that A. A. Moore of the defense has assured me that the defendant and his associates wish me a long life, I shall take additional precautions for my own protection, and make certain as I can that I shall not be shot in the back or dynamited in my bed. The evidence here shows that it is often possible to prepare a defense in advance and I don't overlook warning of this sort."

Mr. Heney brought his argument to a close three minutes ahead of the allotted time. A moment before he was engaged in a review of the testimony of a supervisor, Judge Lawrence reminded him that the remaining moments were few and Mr. Heney, throwing aside a quantity of notes, unhesitatingly, said:

"Gentlemen, I thank you for your attention. I leave this case in your hands, confident and expectant that the jury will have no cause to doubt that you do not have to bring before a jury the man who saw a bribe pass the money to secure a circumstantial evidence will not be treated as insufficient when a wealthy man is on trial, although a supervisor of the police, for instance, can be convicted in a few minutes."

After a recess of five minutes the doors were locked and the judge began his instructions to the jury.

NICHOLAS SENDS DOUCEUR TO BRITISH ENGINEER

Holingsford, June 18.—Emperor Nicholas sent $100 to Coyne, the engineer of the British steamer Woodbury, who was slightly wounded when that vessel was fired upon Wednesday in Peking bay by a Russian torpedo boat for approaching too close to the residence of Emperor Nicholas and Emperor William.

RETALIATION AGAINST CANADA

If She Prohibits Exportation of Logs to United States, She Will Have to Pay Higher Duties.

SUCH AMENDMENT ON PULP.

Presented by Aldrich but Not Pressed At Request of Several Senators. Who Want Time to Consider.

Washington, June 19.—This country will be prepared to meet the move made by Canada looking to the prohibition of the exportation of her logs into the United States if the amendment suggested by the committee on finance to the wood pulp paragraph of the tariff bill shall be agreed to as soon as the senate has disposed of the income tax question at the beginning of today's session. Senator Aldrich presented the committee's amendment on pulp.

Following is the text of the committee's provision:

"That in case of any country, dependency, province or subdivision thereof, shall forbid directly or indirectly the exportation of any wood pulp, logs or wood for use in the manufacture of wood pulp, an additional duty equal to the rates of duty imposed by this paragraph upon wood pulp shall be imposed upon any wood pulp imported from such country or dependency."

The amendment was not pressed as several senators expressed a desire for time to give it consideration before voting on it.

Senator Clapp briefly expressed the opinion that the retaliatory restrictions proposed by the amendment would unfavorably affect the United States by causing a higher price of paper. Mr. Aldrich declared the provision was only intended to apply a higher duty on paper exported from Canada to the United States in case that country should forbid the exportation of logs and wood pulp.

"We simply say to the people of Canada," he said, "if you refuse to allow the exportation of logs and wood, you will have to pay a little higher duty."

On motion of Mr. Aldrich the print paper schedule was further amended as to reduce from six-tenths of one cent to one-half of one cent the duty provided by the house on paper worth from 3 to 4 cents a pound.

GEORGE DOVEY DEAD.

Xenia, Ohio, June 18.—George Dovey, president of the Boston National league baseball club, died on the Pennsylvania train between Xenia and Cincinnati early today, following a hemorrhage of the lungs. Mr. Dovey was on his way to Cincinnati unaccompanied.

Boston, June 18.—George Dovey had been the owner of the Boston club for the last three years, having bought it from the famous triumvirate Messrs. Conner, Soden and Billings. For a term of years Mr. Dovey had been a salesman for the St. Louis Car company and the ownership of the Boston club was his first business venture. He was 46 years old.

No national league games will be played on the day of the funeral.

BETTING AT LATONIA.

Frankfort, Ky., June 19.—The court of appeals today, passed into the September term, the case of the commonwealth versus the racing commission, involving the manner of placing wagers at the Latonia track. This, it is understood, is the case in which the changed, the Latonia track having the right to continue bookmaking.

FATHER KLINE AT DAVID CITY.

David City, Neb., June 19.—Father Kline, who, with bishop Bonanum and several other clergymen, had been ordered to leave Tyllesse last night, arrived here early today and drove from David City to St. Francis. He reported that the three clergymen, who had been ordered to leave Tyllesse last night, arrived here early today and drove from David City to St. Francis. He reported that the three clergymen, who had been ordered to leave Tyllesse last night, arrived here early today and drove from David City to St. Francis.

NORTH AMERICAN TURNFEST FEAST BEGINS

Cincinnati, Ohio, June 19.—What promises to be the most successful turnfest ever held by the North American Turnbund began in this city today and will continue for 10 days. More than 3,000 turners will take part, coming from all parts of the United States and several are here from Germany. The turners will be housed at the Carthage fair grounds, where 1,000 army tents have been set up.

The exhibitions will be given during the day at the Carthage fair grounds and at night at the stadium, erected on Government square.

PEACHES COME HIGH.

Special Price to Colored Guest Leads To an Arrest.

The fact that a restaurant does not wish to cater to colored patrons is no justification for the charge of $1 for a dish of peaches and cake, marked on the bill of fare at 10 cents, and then the arrest of the colored patron on a charge of refusing to pay for a meal after he had offered to pay 30 cents. This was the decision conveyed in the discharge of Jack Clifford, or Clifford, in Judge Eowman's court this morning.

Clifford was arrested a couple of nights ago after he had eaten his dish of peaches and cake in the Occidental cafe, 70 east Second South street. In a long drawn-out trial this morning it developed in the testimony that the Occidental cafe had an aversion to colored people. When Clifford entered the cafe Thursday night and ordered "Pork chops," he was politely informed that the "house was out of them."

After hearing the testimony, Judge Bowman concluded that the negro had not attempted to obtain a meal without paying for it, and discharged him.

CHAMPIONS OF THE INCOME TAX MEASURE.

INCOME TAX AGREEMENT

Question is Postponed Until the Tariff Schedules Have Been Disposed Of.

ALL FAVORING IT CONSENTED.

Attorney-General Now Engaged Preparing Amendment Reflecting Administration's Views.

Washington, June 19.—Senator Bailey, speaking for himself and most of the Democratic and Republican income tax advocates, announced at the opening of the senate session today that he would consent to postpone the disposal of the income tax question until after the tariff schedules were disposed of. It became apparent at once that the postponement would be made, but there was nevertheless some debate before a definite conclusion was reached.

After the debate had proceeded for half an hour an order postponing the subject was suggested by Mr. Bailey and agreed to. The formal presentation of the matter was made by Mr. Aldrich, and it took the form of a unanimous consent agreement to defer the entire income tax and corporation tax questions until the schedules are out of the way. At that time Mr. Bailey's amendment for an income tax and the committee's substitute for it will be taken up and kept before the senate until they have been disposed of.

Mr. Bailey again sought assurance that no motion would be made to refer the amendment to the committee, but was met with a prompt response from Senator Heyburn, who declared that he would not agree to such a proposition. Mr. Heyburn added that he was opposed to any income or corporation tax, or to any other subterfuge as a means of paying the expenses of the government.

Mr. Borah suggested to Mr. Aldrich that the finance committee should not delay in bringing its plan for a corporation tax as considerable time would be required to dispose of it.

"I may as well say now as at any time," replied the Rhode Island senator, "that the entire tax question is before the president he will do so, giving us, no doubt, a provision largely reflecting the views of the administration. As soon as it is considered by the committee it will be reported to the senate and I hope that will not be later than next Monday morning."

The amendment was then allowed to go over.

DUTY ON HIDES.

The finance committee's amendment to the hides paragraph of the tariff bill was the light of the senate today for the first time, being presented there by Chairman Aldrich.

It levies a tariff of 15 per cent ad valorem on hides, whether dressed or pickled, with a provision for a drawback equal to the duty when exported to the United States. The amendment was in the language of the Dingley law and the effect is to take hides from the free list where the Senate left them. Raising this objection to a duty on hides upon the claim that it would tend to perpetuate the beef trust, Senator Clapp declared that his constituents were patriotic enough to give up any advantage they might reap in the possible higher price of hides in order to help destroy a trust.

"How about the leather trust?" inquired Senator Warren. Continuing, he said before the "beef trust" came into being hides were so cheap that farmers could not sell them. Now, he added, hides bring a higher price and shoes are not higher in price.

"If we can get two trusts by the ears and knock their heads together I think that is the better way," suggested Mr. Warren, who could see no advantage in placing hides on the free list to injure one trust while the other would thrive by the action.

U. P. TRAIN ROBBER SUSPECT ARRESTED

Omaha, June 19.—Advices have been received from Buhl, Idaho, of the arrest of W. Marvin, believed to be the fifth man wanted for alleged connection with the Union Pacific mail robbery near here on May 22. The arrest was made as the result of clues obtained from Lillian Stephenson, the woman brought here from Denver with Stephenson. Marvin is now in prison at Twin Falls awaiting action by the federal authorities here.

CONTRACTORS IN BAD WAY.

Ask for Extension on Contract of the Jefferson School Building.

An application to secure an extension of time on the contract of the Jefferson school building, was made to the committee on building and grounds of the board of education this morning by Harry B. Windsor, agent for the Fidelity Deposit & Trust company of Maryland. The company is held responsible as bondsmen for the contract of Vander Horst Bros., which they abandoned. A. J. McDonald, local contractors, are doing the work. The company asks to have the time extended to Dec. 1, while under the contract it was to be completed on Sept. 1, for the opening of school this year. The committee refused to take any action on the matter and declared that the application would have to be presented to the board. The board has made all arrangements to furnish the building for the opening of school and has allowed contracts for other buildings to lapse because it was expected that the building would be finished. An effort will be made to hold the company to its contract.

Mr. Windsor said that the contractors were unable to get sand and for that reason they were unable to mix concrete. Teams were also scarce and on this account little work has been accomplished with the last six weeks. He said that he would take the matter up with the board at the next regular meeting.

BLASTS BREAK GLASS.

Fragments of Old Desert News Building Fly in All Directions.

Those who were in the vicinity of Main street and South Temple last evening between 6 and 7 o'clock were surprised at several very loud reports from the old Desert News corner, followed by dense clouds of dust. It was thought at the time that that was about all that followed the attempt of Contractor Showell's men to blow down the walls of the old building with powder. It developed this morning, however, that a number of missiles flew about the corner, menacing the lives of pedestrians and injuring property. One rock weighing fully 10 pounds was blown against the B. Y. Memorial building, striking the rock wall near the entrance with great force and falling to the cement walk. Another large rock, weighing about 15 pounds, struck the same building, showing that it must have been hurled to a great height. Several rocks, weighing from 5 to 10 pounds, were scattered about the building and several broken windows. One rock pierced the window shade and made a big hole in the two large sheets of glass, owing to the bottom sash being raised. Several small rocks also fell on north Main street.

YOUNG BOY DROWNED IN LITTLE BEAR RIVER

In Trying to Cross Railroad Bridge Thomas B. Jones Falls Into Watery Grave.

(Special Correspondence.)

WILLISVILLE, Utah, June 19.—Thomas B. Jones, the 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Jones of this city, was drowned in Little Bear river near the O. S. L. R.R. bridge yesterday, on his tenth birthday. It appears that the boy in company with other boys was attempting to cross the river when he accidentally fell in and was drowned. Up to 9 o'clock today the body has not been recovered. To make it doubly sad, the father is out in the western part of Boxelder county and the family are unable to locate him at present.

BUHL OFFICERS GET OVERLAND SUSPECTS

Two Bold Men Captured at the Points Of Guns—One Chews a Letter He Was Reading.

Salt Lake traveling men, returning this morning from Twin Falls report a sensational capture at Buhl, of two desperadoes, one of whom it is confidently believed is the missing link in the recent Overland limited train robbery on the Union Pacific near Omaha.

According to the statements made a Pinkerton detective has been shadowing two very suspicious parties over the west, since the commission of the crime, and finally located them at Buhl yesterday morning, under such circumstances as warranted arrest. The detective, who was at Twin Falls, had the Falls city marshal notify the Buhl marshal with the request to arrest the two men, a description of which was given over the wire. The Buhl marshal immediately went on watch, with his six-shooter ready for immediate action, and noticed one of the men enter the local hotel, register and then go to his room. The officer followed, revolver in hand, expecting to have to kick the door in to get at his man. But the door was unlocked, and on entering the marshal found his man seated in a chair reading a letter. Quick as a flash, the officer covered the fellow, before the latter could reach a revolver which lay in an open suit case, and with the help of the deputy put the handcuffs on him. The stranger was so completely taken by surprise and followed by the officer, that he made no resistance at the time, but as if by accident, stumbled over the bed and immediately stuffed the letter he was reading into his mouth and began to chew it up. The officers grabbed the man and finally got the mass of paper out of his mouth so that he was unable to swallow it; but it was not likely to be easy. On being taken down stairs, the supposed train robber put up a fight, but was quickly overpowered by the two strong men who had charge of him, and he was locked up in the local jail.

GET SECOND MAN.

But a few moments afterward, the officers went to the hotel and wanted walking toward the hotel, evidently by appointment, to meet the man already under arrest. He was seized suddenly on the street, and two revolvers were drawn on him, which brought him to time. After being handcuffed he was also locked up. The Omaha police were notified later in the afternoon, and by this time, Nebraska officers are en route with requisition papers for the two desperadoes. The Salt Lake traveling men who saw the arrests, say the two men are as hard a looking brace of birds as they ever saw, and the belief is general up there that the men captured are the very ones wanted.

It will be remembered that when the Omaha officers captured part of the outfit, one of the men escaped over the river to Council Bluffs and disappeared. However, a very fair description was secured of him, and wired out over the country, while the railroad people put the Pinkerton agency at work at once on the fugitive's trail, and the government had its secret service men in action fully as quick. Big rewards are offered for the arrest of the man who escaped, and the second party with him in Idaho, it is believed, is another pal operating on the outside. The two suspected criminals were removed to Twin Falls in the baggage car of the evening train, where they are now in the county jail carefully guarded.

POSTMASTER FOR KAYCEE, WYO

(Special to the "News.")

Washington, D. C., June 19.—Alfred Griggs has been appointed postmaster at Kaycee, Johnson county, Wyoming, vice W. L. Bailey, removed.

FIFTEEN WOMEN ARE ARRAIGNED

Justice Hanks Denies Application To Reduce Bail and Prisoners Go to Jail.

BELLE LONDON BOUND OVER.

Justice Timpon Holds Her for Trial Before District Court on Vagrancy Charge.

Fifteen occupants of cribs, arrested in the sheriff's round-up of the "stockade" last night, were arraigned before Justice Stanley M. Hanks this morning, on charges of vagrancy, consisting of resorting to houses of ill-fame for purposes of lewdness. The complaints were sworn to in each instance by Lon J. Haddock on behalf of the Betterment league.

The women were arraigned at the jailer's office at the county jail, the justice replying to the jail for the purpose. A number of deputy sheriffs were present to identify the women as they appeared, and Claude King, for the defendants, appeared to conduct the case for the women.

As the women filed into the office, three at a time, they presented a most bedraggled and woebegone appearance. They had spent the night in jail, having been taken by surprise by the sheriff's force, and escorted two and two, in whatever habiliments they chanced to have on at the time, to the county jail. They were allowed to secure outer wraps, however, and these in some instances covered but flimsy apparel.

Among the number were all shades of white and black women. Some were black as the proverbial "ace of spades" and others "shaded up" as high as the cottonwood. Of the white women, some were not so white as they appeared to have been before the night's contact with jail accommodations. They were deprived of their powder and paint. All, however, appeared nonchalant and entered their pleas of "not guilty" with absolute indifference.

HELD IN DEFAULT OF BAIL.

The women were held in the same bond in each case, as that imposed last evening by Judge Hanks, $750 each. The attorney for the defense made a plea to have the amount of the bond reduced, saying that the purpose of a bond was not to keep the defendants confined to jail, but to insure their appearance when wanted for trial. Justice Hanks, however, refused to lower the amount of the bonds, and the women were returned to jail pending the appearance of parties willing to put up the amount of security required. As King said, however, that bail would doubtless be forthcoming in each instance.

The remainder of the 31 women arrested in the raid last night were taken to the county jail and addressed, some of them, by the sheriff, and then, after a carload of clothing was despatched to them at the jail at Murray, preliminary to their arraignment before Justice Hanks for arraignment this afternoon.

Those appearing before Justice Hanks, at the county jail this morning, gave the following names as follows: Frankie Allen, Lucile Wilson, May Howard, Pauline Behnapp, Mamie Martier, May Robinson, Carrie Evans, Jennie Robinson Alice Darnum, Annie Hart, Mary Clardy, Lillian Parker, Margaret Smith, Sadie Lister and Edna Ross.

BELLE LONDON HELD.

Belle London of Mrs. Dora Topham, was arraigned for being the owner of premises resorted to for lewd purposes, in Justice Timpon's court yesterday afternoon, and was held in default of a $500 bond to await the action of the district court. She was to be arraigned on another charge before Justice Timpon this afternoon, like her being represented in court, however, by her attorney and not in person.

LEAVES WITH BOY MURDERER.

Dan Tsose Going to United States Prison on Ten Year Service.

Accompanied by United States Marshal L. H. Smyth, Dan Tsose, the Indian boy, left for the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kansas, at noon today, where he goes to serve a sentence of 10 years for killing four of his relatives. All of the changes which have come thick and fast during the last two weeks he has borne with characteristic Indian indifference, excepting the removal from his native home. Boyish like, he loves the desert-like hills of Aneth where the members of his tribe live. Never having been to a school of any kind, he speaks nothing but the Navaho language, and is almost wild in his habits. He is to be taken away from many years from all the scenes with which he is familiar, and from all with whom he has conversed, and placed in a prison where everything will be strange, and the language spoken is unknown to him. He seems to partially realize what all this means, and it is said that he has grieved at the thought of it. For all that, however, those who know best believe that the boy will adapt himself to the prison regulations in time, and that the sentence will make a man of him, being in the nature of an education.

VETERAN OF PONY EXPRESS.

T. O. King of Albion Visits Salt Lake On Way to Canada.

Thomas Owen King, of Albion, Cassia county, Idaho, is in Salt Lake on a brief visit. Mr. King was one of the original pony express riders through this section, having been connected with the "pony" since before the actual establishment of the route. He passed through this section along the proposed route of the express, delivering horses to be used by the riders at the different stations along the line. When the riding was begun, early in April, 1860, Mr. King took up the ride at the mouth of Echo canyon, and rode eastward 85 miles to Millerville, Wyoming. This was two men's ride, but the rider who was to have ridden the eastern division of the stretch, failed for some reason to come "up to the stretch" and Mr. King did double service. The veteran pony rider is now nearly 70 years old, and is as hale and hearty as a man of 50. He leaves this afternoon for a visit to Colorado.

CHIEF QUARTERMASTER HERE.

Col. J. W. Pope Inspects Fort Douglas On Regular Tour.

Col. J. W. Pope, chief quartermaster of the department of Colorado arrived in Salt Lake City last evening and will leave this evening for Denver. Col. Pope came here on a regular inspection tour and spent considerable time at Fort Douglas today looking over the post. He was quite busy today as he was anxious to get through with the inspection of this city and he had inspected all the posts in the department of Colorado with the exception of Fort Logan, and that that would receive his attention upon his return to Colorado.

It was understood that Col. Pope was here in connection with a number of improvements which have been asked for at the post, but he stated that this was not the purpose of his visit.

"I have found conditions very good generally," said Col. Pope, "but of course there is room for improvement in various branches of the department. The commissary department is in good shape and the guard house is one of the finest I have seen in the west. I have inspected all the posts with the exception of Fort Logan and will inspect that upon my return. I leave this evening for Denver."

DID ELSIE SIGEL LOVE THE CHINAMAN?

In One Letter to Him She Said, "Just Think of the Sacrifice I Have Made for You."

OTHER WOMEN WROTE TO HIM

Nearly Two Thousand Letters from New York Women Found in His Room—Cannot Locate Him.

New York, June 19.—The murder of Miss Elsie Sigel, granddaughter of Gen. Franz Sigel, whose body was found last night crowded into a trunk in the room of a Chinaman after she had been strangled with a curtain cord, appears to be the most remarkable case the New York police have had to investigate in many years.

One of the odd phases of the case is the failure of the murdered girl's father, Paul Sigel, to identify the body as that of his daughter, while the girl's mother has declared that the articles of jewelry found in the room with the body belong to the daughter. Acquaintances of Miss Sigel who have seen the body of the murdered girl, assert that it is that of Miss Sigel, and a number of persons have been found by the police who declare that the young woman has been a friend of the Chinaman, William Lo, in whose room the body was found.

Notwithstanding these identifications, it was stated at the home of Mr. Sigel today that Paul Sigel, the girl's father, had gone to Washington "to bring Elsie home."

CHINAMAN STILL UNFOUND.

Leon, who was also known by several Chinese names, was still untraced today, as was also Chung Sin, who occupies a room adjoining that of Leon. Both rooms are on the fourth floor of 732 Eighth avenue, between Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth streets, over a Chinese restaurant conducted by Sun Leung. The police are searching for Leon, but with scant hope of finding him, as it is believed the murderer was committed possibly as early as Thursday. Today the police gave out a report that Leon and Chung Sin had sailed last Friday for Vancouver, on the Canadian steamer by the way of the isthmus of Panama. Precautions have been taken to intercept them if possible.

The police of Washington have been asked to aid the New York police by finding the original copy of a telegram which was received by the girl's parents from that city last Saturday, saying:

"I will be home by the end of the week. Don't worry."

It was signed with the name Elsie Sigel. Miss Sigel has been engaged in missionary work among the Chinese of the city for a few years, having become interested in the religion and the city of her mother in behalf of the Christianization of the orientals. The young woman was about 20 years of age. This morning the New York police, who identified Miss Sigel's body, told the police that the girl and the Chinaman had been thrown together for a few years and that Leon was greatly enamored of the girl, that he was intensely jealous of her and disliked the attention and attentions of other men. This had caused Miss Sigel to fear Leon, Miss Todd said.

LEON'S CORRESPONDENTS.

That Leon had other correspondents than Miss Sigel was discovered when between 1,500 and 2,000 letters, mainly from various women in New York and other cities, were found in his room. Among the number were a number signed "Elsie," which were described by the police as love letters. The contents of the letters were not made known by the police, but in one of them "Elsie" reproached Leon for causing trouble between her father and herself. "Just think of the sacrifice I have made for you," she wrote in one letter.

A note book belonging to Leon and containing the names and addresses of hundreds of women and girls was found in Leon's room.

One of the discoveries regarded by the police as significant, was that Miss Sigel's shoes and stockings were not found in the room where her body was discovered. It is inferred from this that she had been kept a prisoner there and that her footwear was taken from her to prevent her from leaving the room.

DEATH OF W. O. CROCKWELL.

William O. Crockwell, who was well known in southern Utah as a prominent stockman of Millard county, died in Los Angeles, June 17, of heart trouble. The funeral will be held in that city today. Deceased who was 57 years of age was a brother of Charles L. Crockwell of the Salt Lake Herald-Examiner. He is survived by his wife and mother, who were with him when he passed away.

CHIEF QUARTERMASTER HERE.

He was quite busy today as he was anxious to get through with the inspection of this city and he had inspected all the posts in the department of Colorado with the exception of Fort Logan, and that that would receive his attention upon his return to Colorado.

It was understood that Col. Pope was here in connection with a number of improvements which have been asked for at the post, but he stated that this was not the purpose of his visit.

"I have found conditions very good generally," said Col. Pope, "but of course there is room for improvement in various branches of the department.
